RAILCORPS COMPETENCY ASSESSMENTS IN DISPUTE

Members from the CBD stations area reported that they are being called to assessments without prior knowledge or information about what is the purpose of such assessments.

The RTBU believe these are competency assessments that may be used for future placements.

The RTBU has not been consulted on these assessments and is outraged that RailCorp would treat their own employees with such disdain. Maybe RailCorp should spend some resources in their top heavy management in some dignity and respect training.

The RTBU has now placed this matter in dispute.

We advise that members should not undertake assessments unless they have been provided with written details on the assessments purpose.

Members will be kept informed on this important matter.
